

SAARF Members of the 600 Show findings of Seniors Abuse of Seniors. A youngster and a member of the Mill are a hand on a senior abuse on their 600 Show Awareness Day.

Youngsters join hands to prevent seniors' abuse

Barney Mendonca
Monday, June 10

SAARF 600 people, young and old, joined hands to bring a message about seniors' abuse to the park. The 600 Show Awareness Day is being held on Monday.

There's a major issue seniors living with. These families are financially or emotionally abused. Seniors are being mistreated as to be treated, according to the SAARF, a non-profit organization that works for seniors' rights. Seniors Abuse of Seniors is a national organization that works for seniors' rights. Seniors Abuse of Seniors is a national organization that works for seniors' rights. Seniors Abuse of Seniors is a national organization that works for seniors' rights.

"There is a widespread attitude among younger people that seniors are not as important as they are," said Barney Mendonca, founder of Seniors Abuse of Seniors. "We need to work to change such attitudes. It was encouraging that many of the seniors who were made up of young people, however, in the first step. We also need to encourage young people to volunteer and help seniors in their own neighborhoods. We need to work to change such attitudes. It was encouraging that many of the seniors who were made up of young people, however, in the first step. We also need to encourage young people to volunteer and help seniors in their own neighborhoods. We need to work to change such attitudes. It was encouraging that many of the seniors who were made up of young people, however, in the first step. We also need to encourage young people to volunteer and help seniors in their own neighborhoods. We need to work to change such attitudes. It was encouraging that many of the seniors who were made up of young people, however, in the first step. We also need to encourage young people to volunteer and help seniors in their own neighborhoods. We need to work to change such attitudes. It was encouraging that many of the seniors who were made up of young people, however, in the first step. We also need to encourage young people to volunteer and help seniors in their own neighborhoods. We need to work to change such attitudes. It was encouraging that many of the seniors who were made up of young people, however, in the first step. We also need to encourage young people to volunteer and help seniors in their own neighborhoods. We need to work to change such attitudes. It was encouraging that

There is a widespread attitude among younger people that seniors are not as important as they are. We need to work to change such attitudes.

Seniors Abuse of Seniors is a national organization that works for seniors' rights.